BELLES LETTRES

CIRCULATING HIBRARY.

Proprietor of this work, assuming this readers to as great an extent a will allow, respectfully announce to that the very libers parenage to do has enabled him to add a new less than the series of t

VOL. LXXXIX.

PRINTED AND PUBLISHED BY JONAS GREEN, T THE BRICK BUILDING ON THE PUB-LIC CIRCLE. RICE-THREE DOLLARS PER ANNUM.

MISCELLANEOUS.

From the United States Gazette.

SERENADE. Listen, listen, Lady fair!
From thy hower high in ain,
Listen, wante the stars are waking.
Twill to too, her leave is taking.
Listen, while you starry ceiling
soft with chiming spheres is pealing, gof win criming specific to the Liven, while the weary him, Or mortals turning them to rest, Tells such the liouris come, The hour that music loves the hest; Turn thee from the trembling lote, Listen only to the Bute Of Thomas Mulligan, Esquire. Of Homas Mulligan, Esquire.
Caller blows the northern olast,
And freezing diws are falling fier,
then, the moon, but cold as clear,
7 men drops the stars appear.
Then a withered leaf blew past,
Juding me in shivering haste;
Cone the casement, Liddy fair!
Go not the chill of evening breezes,
Clearest in the wintry sir,
When the lake it deepest freezes;
Go, while music's clearm stall lingers
In the case—to rest reture, Go, while music schure, In some ear-to rest retire,
And look not of the stiffening fingers,
Or the mas Mulligan. Esquire.

Than the still unblushing gaze
Of you red planet's ceaseless blaze; Sweetest is the awester month, When uphil it says far well; Sweet the tinkling of the lute, When the placer's fingers tire, And sweet is the retiring flute of Thomas Mulligan, Esquire.

HE LUNATIC ASYLUM AT PALER.

BY M. P. WILLIS.

Palermo June 28.
Two of the best conducted lunatic asylums he world are in the kingdom of Naplesmo. The latter is managed by a whime to it. and with assistance of the governthese who can afford it, enter as boarders. are furnished with luxuries according to

The hespital stands in arrairy situation in lorely neighbourhood of Palermo. We re received by a porter in a respectable ery, who introduced us immediately to the loron—a kink-looking man, rather adaced beyond middle life, of manners singuto indulent looking man, in clean gray mass, talking to himself with great appartisatisfaction. He suited at the baron as passed without checking the motion of his

The kitchen was occupied by eight or ten may One man, of about forty, was broilmes cooking on a patent store. I was rawhere the same of a little into one of the pans, and resumed recupation.

We passed from the kitchen into an open art, curiously paved, and ornamented with inese grottoes, artificial rocks, trees, cotancie grottoes, artificial rucks, trees, cutgreaud fountains. Within the grottoes relasd figures of wax before the altar of pueted up as a Chinese chapel, a mandarin was retrated in prayer. The walls on every de were painted in perspective accepts, and a whole had as little the air of a prison as a gen valley itself. In one of the corners his an authorished grotto, and a handsome ang was was entirely absorbed in thatching
e ceiling with strips of cane. The baron made to him, and raid he had been incuratill be had this astiployment for him. Ein thing about us, too, he assured us, was a work of his patients. They had paveil seems, built the grottoes and oottages, and into the walls, ander his direction. The cet of his whole aystem, he said, was em-

them quite recovered.

We went into the apartment of the women.

These, he said, were his worst subjects. In the first room sat eight or ten employed in more than thirty, but quite gray, was walk-ing up and down the floor, talking and gesti-culating with the greatest violence. A young going out I passed her again, and taking working with emotion, witched us till we

Her eves were naturally large and with the deferential courters of the old school, she sat still, with her lies white and trembling like an aspen. While the good old baron was endervouring to draw her into a quiet conversation the physician told me some curious circumstances respecting her. She was a Greek, and had been brought to Palermo when a girl. Her mind had been destroyed by an illness, and after seven years' madness, during which she had refused to raise from the reled and had only lost the nee of her her bed and had quite lost the use of her limbs, she was brought to the establishment by her friends. Experiments were tried in vain to induce her to move from her painful position. At last the baron determined upon addressing what he considered the master passion in all female bosoms. He dressed himself in the gayest manner, and, in one of har gentle moments, entered her room with respectful ceremony and affered himself to her in marriage! She refused him with scorn, and with sceming emotion he begged forgiveness and left her. The next morning on his ness and lett ner. The next morning on his entrance, she smiled—the first time for years. He continued his attentions for a day or two, and after a little coquetry she one morning announced to him that she re-considered his prophesis, and would be his bride. They raised her from her bed to prepare her for the raised her from her bed to prepare her for the ceremony, and she was carried in a chair to the garden where the bridal feast was spread, nearly all the other patients of the hospital being present. The gaietr of the scene abority of the stenties of the scene abority of the stenties of the scene abority of the stenties of the stenties of the scene abority of the stenties of the st am prevailed; and when the ceremony was signal paroxyam, such as we happened to wit-ness, she is quiet and contented. The other spinning, while one infurlated creature, not and the baron, as her husband, has the greatest auftuence over her.

The Marpland Gazette.

calming her, and she sat with her arms folded old man lying on the stone seat in the outer court, rose up and followed us to the door. and we were bowed out by the baron and his were concluding a visit to a company of residing at Lime, containing an interesting account of the great earthquake at Arica and Tacua, as witnessed by his correspondent at the latter place. The following extracts will be read, doubtless, with interest.

morning visited by one of the most fearful earthquakes which this city has ever experienced, the consequences of which have beer inder their houses, and in the churches while neeting of the Cabildo, who have ordered all en materials, were taken out more dead tian children, who were bruised and disfigured in the most shocking manner. One woman with her child, were found wrapt together in a blanket, she having prepared to run out, out was stopped, by the door being twisted and blocked up. Two were found under the ruins of the church, classed in each others arms, having resigned thus to their fate, when pre-vented from escaping. It is lamentable, that the loss of many lives was occasioned by the ignorance and superstition of the people, who ignorance and superstition of the people, who remained in the churches for greater safety The sub-prefect was out of town, but arrived are sup-present was out of town, out arrived at twelve o'clock, and is using every means to mitigate the consequences of this sad catas-trophe. The foreigners, however, had in the mean time opened a subscription for the refiel of the poorest sufferers, and a list has been filled, including the whole of them at one to three doubloons each, which will amount to something handsome. The loss of property has then very great; and in this place alone it is estimated at from 2 to 300,-1000 dollars. Indeed I should suppose more. for scarcely a bouse has escaped without-more or less injury. The number of bodies found are about twenty, but there are about 500 cart loads of rubbish to be removed yet from the ruins of the church, which will take some time. However, there are few missing now. . Sept. 19th. By the post this morning, we her son's robbling an orchard. Madam,' have received a confirmation of the report in all depends upon the weight of the boy.

ployment and constant kindness. He had usually about one hundred and fifty patients; ried back in state to her apartment. She read that habitable house remaining—two lives and dismissed upon an average two thirds of covered gradually the use of her limbs, her lost—only, which is so far consolatory. The health is improved, and excepting an occas elegant new Custom House, which has just been finished at a great expense is reduced ness, sha is quiet and contented. The other to ruins. We are all thankful, deeply thank-inmates of the asylum still call her the bride; ful to the Almighty for our preservation; none which their debtors are reduced; no business of the purchasers from Arequipa. have started off to see how their families have last year's wine has been lost, by the vessels in which it was contained breaking in the vaults. We have had a succession of shocks cannot remain in our houses a moment withv want the particulars of this disastrons earthquake from other parts of the country, over a Litchfield lady, in the dead walking after death? Madam, and Johnson, I have no ount on the subject; I have heard the Dead March in Saul. 'You really believe, then, theorem, in ghosts?' Madam,' said Johnson, sniff; but whether at Hampton Wick, or in Greece, must depend upon the gravis.

> From Hood's Comic Annual. JOHNSONIA. 'Do you really believe, Dr. Johnson,' said

N. Bedford Mercury.

wide they must spier their way at the first or-very met. Sir. Sir. Dr. Joinson, you're distance of 15,300 onles! In this estimate is a scoundrel: you may spear any body you like included about 2,000,000 yards of course

. What do you think of whiskey. Dr John- of wool are used per annum.

preserve you in battle, and especially your At Dansinane the old prejudice broke out, - Sn., said he to Boswell, Macboth was an that he ought to have known that every wood countrymen, and remarked triumphantly that probably be the means of adding at least one there was a Cathedral at Kirkwall, and the remains of a Bishop's palace. Sir, said Lowell. Johnson, it must have been the poorest of the Middles x Company has lately erect-sees; take your Rum and Egg and Mull to-ed another mill, for the manufacture of-cassigether, and they won't provide for a Bishop!'

East India Company is the worst of all company. A lady from Calcutta once endea-toured to curry Johnson's favour by tacking of nothing but howdans, doolies, and bunga-lows, till the Doctor took, as usual to itffin.'

Madam, said he, in a tone that would have Madam, said he, in a tone that would have scared a tiger out of a jungle, 'India is very well for a rubber or for a bandana, or cake of inks but what with its Shurtpore, Pahlumpore, Barrackpore, Hyderapore, Singpore and Magnore; its Hyderabad, Astrabad, Bundlebad, Sinbad, and Guzzarathidludy, its a roon and BAD country altogether.'

Master M. after plaguing Miss Seward and Dr. Darwin, and a large tea party at Litch-field, said to his mother that he would be good if she would give him an apple. 'My dear child, said the parent feeling herself in the presence of a great moralist, 'you' ought not to be good on any consideration of gain, for 'virtue is its own reward.' You ought to be good disinterestedly, and without thinking what you are to get for it? Madam, 'said Dr.
Johnson, 'you are a fool; weuld you have the boy good for nothing?'

The same lady once consulted the Doctor of the degree of turpitude to be attached to her and's rabbing an orehard. Madam,' 'str.

It depends many the weight of the boy.

remember my school-fellow. David Garricki zen of orchards with impunity; but the very first time I climbed up an apple tree, for I was always a heavy boy, the bough broke with me, and it was called a judgment. I suppose that's why Justice is represented with Caleb Whiteforde the famous punster, once inquired seriously of Dr Johnson, whether he really considered that a man ought to be transported, like Barrington, the nick pocket for being guilty of a double meaning? 'Sir,' said Johnson, 'if a man means well, the more he means the better.

From the People's Mazazina

LOWELL.

Lowell, the American Manchester, is situated at the confluence of Merrimant and Concord rivers, twenty-five miles northwest from Boston. This town received its name from tinguished by his successful efforts in introducing the cotton manufacture in the United States. The place is undoubtedly destined to be a great manufacturing city.

The growth of Lowell for a few years past has been almost unparrallelled. The founda-tion of the second factory was laid here in 1822, at which time, the land now included in the town, exclusive of one factory establistment, contained less than one hundred into learn the state of the manufactures of cotton and wollen Goods in Lowell at the present time. We are indebted to the Journal invested, is $6,130,000. large mills in actual operation is nineteen. These mills are each about one hundred and fifty seven feet in length and forty-five in breadth-of brick, five stories high, each story averaging from ten to thirteen feet high Dr. Johnson was not comfortable in the epimes. Pray, Doctor, how do you see of this giving apportunity for a free circulation of air. The aggregate number of spinoles as so extremely hospitable that some hundreds always occapy the same bed. M. dam' ber of operatives employed is about 5000, of streds always occupy the same bed. M dam' ber of operatives employed is about 5000, of which 1200 are males, 3800 are females. The aught long, sleep seemed to fice from my eyes quantity of raw cotton, used in these mills lids, and to bug from all the rest of my bo-occupied by the from all the rest of my bo-occupied by the from all the rest of my bo-occupied by the from all the rest of my bo-occupied by the from all the rest of my bo-occupied by the from all the rest of my bo-occupied by the from all the rest of my bo-occupied by the from all the rest of my bo-occupied by the from all the rest of my bo-occupied by the from all the rest of my bo-occupied by the from all the rest of my bo-occupied by the from all the rest of my bo-occupied by the from all the rest of my bo-occupied by the from all the rest of my bo-occupied by the from all the rest of my bo-occupied by the from all the rest of my bo-occupied by the from all the rest of my bo-occupied by the from all the rest of my bo-occupied by the from all the rest of the from t goods of various qualties manufactured an-tor's opinion on illicit distillation, and how grained or Kidderminster corpeting, ten for the great moralist would act in an affray be Brussels and eight for rugs of various kinds. the great moralist would act in an affray be Brussels and eight for rugs of various kinds.

Treen the Singuighers and the Excise. If I One hundred and forty thousand pounds of the Customs, but a cording to the spirit, I ed into rich and beautiful carpets, the colours should assist the Contrabands? ed which will see with any imported. The onth assist the Contrabands' of which will vie with any imported. The Doctor was always very satirical on number of yards of expering made per annum he to the young Laird of Icombally, who was sand, besides rugs. The operatives at pregoing to join his regiment, may Providence sent employed in all these nulls receive for mill in operation. One other is erected which will be in operation in a short time. The foundation of two others are laid which will on Scotland inight be carried in a man's hand. The Scotch sir, are like the frogs in the father they had a Log they would make a about 10,500 additional spindles for cotton, and 350 loums, and will use 2,500,000 lbs. of raw cotton annually, furnishing employment for 700 operatives. These three mills will a thou-and five hundred to the population of > mers and brug iclotin, which is said to be une of the first manufacturing eiler es in the U.: States. It is one hundred and fifty-three feet in length, by forty six, and six stores high. Nearly one million of bricks have been used in its construction. It contains 2.880 apind. les, and sixty four loums for cassimers, and forty for broad cloths: It works up about 300,000 lbs. of wool annually, and employs about two hundred and seventy five opera-

The edifice, in which all the machinery, employed in the mills is manufactured, is termed the Machine Shop, belonging to the Locks and Canal Company, and is probably the largest 'shop' in the country, being built' of brick, four stories high, two hundred and twenty feet in length and forty five feet its width. About two hundred machinists, tomo of them the most skilful and ingenious work. men in the United States, or in the world, are constantly employed. About aix handred tons of cast and wrought from, two-thirds of which at least are of American production, are annually converted into machinery, besides a large quantity of imported steel.

sand tons of Anthracite coal are somestly consumed in the Lawell Manufacturing s stablishments and Machino shop, besides im-

The Steam Bost BASTON. The Steam Both RYLAND, contact the 9th inst. lest the 9th inst. lest lower end of J. Wharf, at 7 o'clock. A. M. for Annie (Cambridge by Castle Haven.) and Eastern Shore on extra nall buy what books we vant, and buy what books we vant, and sideserve it a careful pelosal.

The prospectus, and some echical is the always attending the first is at all ournal, make the present humber but a mournal, in the future or observement of its future or observement.

July 4.

is great increase of reading matter. Its contained on the pages of the correlatorary, and therefore subject subscribed corve their number by med to no addition (Cambridge by Castle Haven,) and Raim-return from the Eastern Shore on ettry nesday and Saturday, leaving Eastead, W. by Castle, Haven and Annapolis, commence, her Chestertown Trip of 22d April, feaving Baltimore at 6 a chek-return the same day, leaving Chesterial o'clock; calling at Coraira what, for the treville massengers.

n clock: calling at Coratra want, as treville phassengers

N. B. All baggage Bathe dwners in Passage to ar from Easton or Cambridge Passage to or from Jumpolis. Passage to Chesterhown or Corate. Children under 12 years of age half produced to the Cambridge Passage and Cambridge Services.

LEM'L. G. TAYLUR.